Golf Performance Canada at Total Golf is seeking the services of an Assistant Coach for the 2022 season.

Golf Performance Canada offers year-round golf coaching. Teaching experience is not necessary, but you must love the game and be passionate about helping others improve.

Our mission is to help students achieve their goals in golf whether they are beginners or accomplished players. We pride ourselves on providing a fun and enjoyable environment for our staff and clients.

Our method is unique in several ways. Other than on-course playing lessons, we operate exclusively indoors at Total Golf. This allows us to operate 12 months per year and we are not subject to weather cancellations. We use data and technology to benchmark students' improvement in our programs. As a result, our students are learning to play the game, not just swing the club. We place great emphasis on what and how to practice (including extensive short game work) and hold our students accountable for their own improvement. We have a proven method of improvement with hundreds of clients which allows us to guarantee results
