Barry Forth – General Manager, Copetown Woods Golf Club

Trier of new things to make playing and working in golf less boring. My self-deprecation game is far better than my golf game. GM at my family-owned public golf course, Copetown Woods (@copetownwoods).

Nathane Jackson - Golf Fitness Professional

In 2015, after playing the first round of golf in nearly three decades and hitting that one shot in the middle of the clubface, I was hooked. I knew right there I wanted to fill the competition void left by University basketball and not only take up golf for myself, but to share my knowledge as a strength & conditioning coach to help golfers become stronger, faster and more mobile so they can hit bombs and play this game pain free. Since then, I have devoted the majority of my time and energy to helping golfers with their most important club – THE BODY!
